ZERO GRAVITY SOLUTIONS

Deliver one complete product capability

Choose one customer journey or business integration and take it through implementation, acceptance and handover. Start from a product brief or an existing build; if the idea needs testing first, agree on a focused discovery.

The agreed scope

One capability across the interface, backend, data and integrations, with user roles and release criteria agreed upfront.

What you receive

- An agreed user journey, scope, milestones, and acceptance cases
- Working software with relevant failure checks and deployment guidance
- Documentation and a walkthrough for the receiving team

What we need from you

A product decision owner, a brief or existing repository, relevant system access, and someone who can accept the result.

How we judge the result

Demonstrate the complete journey, including account boundaries, invalid inputs and failed dependencies. Review deployment, recovery and handover with the receiving team.

What happens next

Scope the next capability, agree on support, or establish continuing engineering capacity.

Scope, fees, availability, and ongoing support are agreed before work begins.

hello@zerogravitysolutions.org zerogravitysolutions.org/services/software-implementation/